DAVIS THEATRE.

Marion Leonard in Those Who Live in Glass Houses, Special Feature To-

An exceptionally strong bill of photoplays has been booked for the remaining half of this week, headed by a big special feature with the popular screen actress, Marion Leonard, in Those Who Live in Glass Houses, another of these Wenneys Players class A attractions which have proved a big success at this popular theatre. Those Who Live in Glass Houses is a fictional film discourse on the Biblical assertion that he who is without sin may be entitled to cast the first stone at the transgressor telling a fascingating story. be entitled to cast the first stone at the transgressor, telling a fascinating story of a young artist's struggle with temptation and her own dual personality. Culminating with the conquest of good over evil through the courage of a minister and a brave girl. There are three interesting parts to this feature. The other Mutual movies on this bill are For the Sake of Kate, a great Reliance drama, with Arthur Macklay in his famous sheriff role; Our Mutual Girl, chapter 21, is nore interesting than ever, and all the New York detective and police are still looking for her; as yet no trace of her York detective and police are still looking for her; as yet no trace of her has been found. The Keystone comedy is called A Suspended Ordeal, with the always funny Fatty causing more laughs than a circus. Messrs, Boyle and Craig have a very strong concert programme for this change, Mr. Boyle will sing All Doing the Same, a novelty number that he puts over in his own original style. Mr. Craig will sing Mona, a beautiful tenor solo that suits his fine voice to perfection. The duet is the old time favorite, In the Gloaming, arranged by these clever singers, and gives them lots of chance to display both voices to advantage. These both voices to advantage. These two singers are becoming more popular every day and the singing has caused much favorable comment throughout the city. Matinee every day at 2.20. Special attention given to ladies and children.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. Entire New Bill of Quality Vaudeville and Photoplays Today.

The unanimous opinion of everyone who has visited the Auditorium at any time during the past five or six weeks has been that the entertainment provided by the management was first class in every respect. The manage-ment realizes that a standard set must be kept up, and the show booked for the last three days of this week is up to standard of quality required by this

Sigler, McDonald & Wiggins, or, as they are better known, The Medley Trio, will head the bill with their harmonious comedy singing offering. This act is composed of two gentlemen and one lady, and is one of the fastest and liveliest singing specialties in vaude-ville.

Alias Midred Wightman of Pulnam, which will have parents, was a former resident of Norwich Town. Her friends were interested in the account of the recital she gave as told in Wednespitch. The ALLEN-BEEMAN CO., The ALLEN-BEEMAN CO., Commerce Street.

ville.

Musical acts have always been favorities at the Auditorium, and for those who are musically inclined a treat has been provided in Bob Hardie, who is known from coast to coast as king of the one-string fiddle. Mr. Hardie has several varieties of fiddles, varying in shape and size, but the main peculiarity of them all is that main peculiarity of them all is that they have only one string. However, the lack of strings does not mean lack of harmony, and Mr. Hardie can make more genuine music out of one string than some violinists can out of the regulation four.

Farnum & Delmore in The Prima Donna and the Bughouse Furniture Breaker have one of those slambang acts that is chock full of comedy. Mr. Farnum is well known as a great com-

Farnum is well known as a great com-edy acrobat and he does some of the funniest falls ever seen outside of a moving picture. Miss Deimore pos-sesses a rich soprano voice with a re-markable range, and her fine singing and Mr. Farnum's comedy make up an entertaining and amusing offering.

Universal photoplays today are Whom God Hath Joined, a two reel drama from the Eclair studio at Tucson, Ariz.; The Call Back, a Victor film, with Warren Kerrigan, and The Shares Want a Flat one of those fun. Sharps Want a Flat, one of those funny Joker films, with Ford Sterling's only rival, Max Asher.
Lucille Love, series No. 6, also the Animated Weekly, will be on hand to-

COLONIAL THEATRE.

The Making of a Scout. And now comes the last word in the movies, a picture which used up ten thousand feet—nearly two miles—of film, and which displays in a graphic manner the many activities of the Boy Scouts of America. After the pic-ture had been thoroughly edited there remained seven reels of exciting inci-dent, or enough for an entire evening's entertainment.

In reference to the picture is the following interesting letter:
Sept. 9, 1912.
Mr. James E. West, Executive Officer,
Boy Scouts of America, New York
City, N. Y.:
My Dear West:

It was a great privilege to see the Boy Scout motion picture. It is posi-tively one of the greatest feature films yet produced in this country. Through a delightful, entertaining and instruc-tive story full of drama, the great work known as the Boy Scout movement is presented to the people. It grips the audience from beginning to end, presenting without preaching or moralizing those conditions in the life of an American boy that make for poverty or time, and hew the Boy Scout movement is attacking those conditions.

ment is attacking those conditions and redeeming thousands of boys from an otherwise hopeless environment. Especially is it the great work for the youth of the nation; the prevention of those difficulties that make necessary courts prisons and asylums. courts, prisons and asylums.
With all good wishes for the success that the picture so eminently deserves.

I am, Sincerely yours, BEN B. LINDSEY. Special matinee at Colonial theatre on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Children 10c, adults 15c. Evening at 745. General admission 15c, including reserved seat, 25c. No reserved seats held after 8 o'clock.

Birthday Feast on the Lawn. Nine children from 2 to 5 o'clock had a merry time Wednesday afternoon on the lawn at Mrs. O. W. Dickey's on East Town street. Games including blowing soap bubbles, were played. Towards the close of the afternoon the children were seated about a most attractive table. The party being in honor of the May birthday of Myrtilla Perkins, the centerpiece was a May-pole in the middle of the birthday cake with its pink candles. Pink and white ribbons extended to the favors which were little ladies in the posture of winding the Maypole. Cakes, candies, rabbit crackers and ice cream were enjoyed. Assisting the hostress were Mrs. James L. Perkins, Miss Jessie E. Hyde, and Mrs. J. Harry Miner of Borah.

The guests were Myrtilla and Doro. with its pink candles. Pink

POETRY

The morning letters on my desk
Yet all unopened lie;
To axure patches o'er the roofs
My restless glances fly;
I dream of cottage gardens gay,
And roads that wander down
Through sun and shade and silver dew,
And take me far from town.

Beyond the whir of wheels and wires,
The pall of smoke and steam,
The woods are dancing in the wind,
The singing waters gleam,
And every tiny bud that blows,
And every booming bee,
And bird, and breeze, and billow, sends
A wireless call to me.

TO RENT—Collage, Pleasant View, season or week. F. D. Rogers, Wester-iy, R. Li

I want to climb the mountain heights
And leave the world below,
And give my city-hampered soul
A little chance to grow.
I want to idle on the beach,
And burrow in the sand,
Where ocean's blue immensity
Will make my heart expand. BOARD and room; also table board, at 16 Kinney Ave., Thamesvine. Jelia

Too long a grind of work and care,
And every-day routine,
Create a fever nothing cures
But places still and green.
An hour is long enough to pack
My grip and reach the station,
Let business go to smash for once,
I need a short vacation.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition All Summer

It would be much better for the skin if littie cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercolized wax will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps, the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been solied by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white, satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful courtenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will completely renevate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.
